Colourfastness

When a sunshade is exposed to the sun, the fabric will fade over time. How quickly and to what extent depends on the fabric quality. Platinum offers fabrics in classes 1 up to 4. A higher material class results in a better colourfastness with a longer period until first noticeable fading. Material class 2 offers a colourfastness of 80-160 days in the sun. Material class 4 shows initial colour changes after ca 350 days of solar radiation. To extend the lifespan of your parasol we recommend to always use an Aerocover when your parasol is not in use.

UV protection

Every sunshade offers protection from the sun, but not all protect against UV rays. Platinum sunshades filter and protect against UV rays with a UPF class up to 50+.

AeroCovers

AeroCovers ensure maximum protection for your garden furniture, parasols and barbecues.

Made from light, rip-stop polyester backed with a special membrane, our AeroCover garden furniture covers are breathable and water resistant. This reduces condensation and prevents mould and mildew from spoiling your furniture.

Carefully designed with sewn-in cords with 2 stoppers at 2 sides of the cover and an additional buckle on all L-shape covers, AeroCovers fit snugly to your outdoor furniture. The parasol covers are fitted with a sewn-in fibre glass rod to make it simple to cover your parasol without the need for a stepladder and the cushion storage bags have reinforced handles and double zippers for ease of use and quality assurance.

Every garden and lounge set cover comes with a handy storage bag attached the cover, ensuring it's quick and easy to put away when not in use. The unique lightweight material ensure the covers are: easy to handle, take up minimal space whilst it's been stored away and make for a fuss free process when covering and uncovering your garden furniture.

With our range of AeroCovers we hope we are providing a more sustainable alternative to PVC covers as AeroCovers are made of environmentally friendly materials that can be recycled after their long and useful life. Due to their material composition, PVC covers cannot breath through the fabric and require vents that can let in dirt and dust, they also become hard and tend to break when repeatedly exposed to low temperates, whereas AeroCovers remain flexible.

AeroCovers also retain excellent colour fastness meaning they don't fade like standard covers. This is due to the fabric being coloured throughout as opposed to having a white core and a coloured coating like some alternative covers, as a result of the solution dyed process.

Point of Sale Support

We offer all of our AeroCover stockists full point-of-sale support with display stands and a demonstration video for shops, showrooms and websites.
